Research Corporation – Department Development Awards. "Research Corporation is willing to consider opportunities for significant science advancement that impacts an individual department or cluster of science departments. We are especially interested in opportunities where Research Corporation could play a catalytic role in strengthening science. The activities to which we are amenable include long-term consultation, program development, and resource enhancement. We will not consider requests to obtain endowment funds, contributions for the construction of new buildings or to complete building renovations, or for matching funds for instrumentation."
