Trinity Rome Campus 2016 – 2017 Tuition & Additional Expenses Worksheet

The program fees cover tuition, room, most meals (the price of room and board is $1200 less than room and board at Trinity Hartford to adjust for meals that will need to be paid for out of pocket while abroad), required Italian health insurance, HTH Worldwide Health Insurance, a Rome bus and metro pass, insurance for internships, museum fees, and academic excursions, including travel and lodging for weekend excursions.

The fee does not cover travel to and from the program, books, studio-arts course supplies, or personal expenses. Participants make their own travel arrangements. See the bottom of the fee break-down below for information on expected expenses not covered by the fee that students will be billed by Trinity College.

Trinity does not offer financial aid or scholarships to visiting students, who should talk to a financial aid officer at their institution about whether their aid will travel and if any additional aid is available for study abroad. Trinity does offer visiting students a $3,000 discount off the total cost of the program. The “Total Bill” line below takes this discount into account.

Comprehensive Fee Breakdown

- Tuition (Trinity tuition, minus 3,000 visiting student discount) | 25,175 |
- Room & Board | 5640 (6840 – 1,200 credit) |
- Trinity General Fee | 1000 |
- Health Insurance | 500 |
- Italian Residency Permit | 250 |
- Total comprehensive fee | 32,565 |

Additional Recommended Expenses

- Books & Supplies | 500 |
- Meals | 1,200* |
- Miscellaneous (personal exp., laundry, add’l local travel, etc) | 3,000 |
- Flight | 1,100-1,500 |
- Total recommended expenses not included in comprehensive fee | 5,800-6,200 |

The Room & Board amount billed has been reduced by this amount (compared to what students would have been charged if staying in Hartford for the semester). It is assumed that students need access to this sum in cash to eat in Rome, because not all meals are provided. See the Rome Campus Handbook for details.
