

Dear Applicant,

Thank you for your interest in the Bants2Bants program. Bants2Bants is a group of students that go out into the Trinity College community to facilitate workshops for clubs, teams, and organizations. Education topics include alcohol, drugs, sexual health, stress management, and sleep.

If you are chosen to be part of our staff you will be trained to run small a program at Orientation, facilitate workshops, conduct outreach campaigns, and design awareness tabling events. Students should expect to work between 2-4 hours a week including a weekly team meeting. You must be able to arrive on campus to begin training on Tuesday, August 27th and remain available during Orientation weekend.

Why would you want this job? T-shirt, training, leadership experience, opportunity to network with other campus leaders, to help create a healthier campus, and it looks good on your resume.

Application:

- Cover letter stating why you are interested in the position
- Current resume
- Design an educational wellness workshop for Trinity College (see next page).

The application deadline is Tuesday, April 30, 2019.

Email your application to Geraldyn.Gherard@trincoll.edu and Pamela.Mulready@trincoll.edu.

Be well!

Geraldyn and Pam

Create a Wellness Workshop

Directions: Create a wellness workshop for Trinity College students. The program should be 45 minutes to 60 minutes in length. You can choose any health education topic that you believe is relevant for Trinity College students.

Title:

Learning Objective (2-3):

Brief Description of the Program of why this program is relevant for college students:

Material List:

Duration of the Program:

Step by Step Lesson Plan:

Resources you used to put it together and that we could refer students to (please use reliable resources):

On campus resources that may be relevant to your program: