

THE 2019 SHIRLEY G. WASSONG MEMORIAL LECTURE
IN EUROPEAN AND AMERICAN ART, CULTURE, AND HISTORY

Volume, Variety, Velocity:

The Data Challenges of Contemporary Culture

Lev Manovich,

author and professor at The Graduate School at CUNY, will address the challenges of observing digital culture that has become too big and complex for traditional humanities methods. In his lecture, Manovich will discuss an unprecedented access to human culture in real time, arguing that contemporary digital culture has the same characteristics originally used to define big data—volume, variety, and velocity.

Monday, April 29, 2019
7:00 p.m.
McCook Auditorium

THE LECTURE IS FREE AND OPEN TO THE PUBLIC

PUBLIC RECEPTION IMMEDIATELY FOLLOWING IN
Hallden Hall North, Dangremond Family Commons

For more information, please contact Trinity's Institute for Interdisciplinary Studies at:
melinda.mckeown@trincoll.edu

Trinity College
HARTFORD CONNECTICUT

The Shirley G. Wassong Memorial Lecture in European and American Art, Culture, and History was established in 1996 in loving memory of Mrs. Wassong with the support of friends, family, and her husband, Joseph Wassong, Class of 1959.