Grossman Global Studies Fund

The Kenneth S. Grossman '78 Global Studies Fund, established in honor of Professor Eugene E. Leach, at the Center for Urban and Global Studies (CUGS) supports student investigations of global issues that confront humankind in the 21st century. Examples of such issues include human rights, peacekeeping, the preservation of the ecosphere, migrations and diasporas, international health standards, and the consequences of revolutionary advances in information technology and bioengineering.

Grossman Research Grants for Global Studies: Application Deadline: March 29, 2017

- All students undertaking investigations in global issues from a Trinity course or under the supervision of a Trinity faculty member are eligible to apply for grants from the Grossman Fund to attend conferences, visit libraries, conduct fieldwork, or offset other research-related expenses during summer 2017.
- A faculty committee meets each year in April to evaluate applications and to determine the amount of grants. The maximum grant, ordinarily, will not exceed $1,000.
- Students awarded grants are expected to make use of their funding by September of the following year, or, in the case of seniors, by graduation, and to submit a report to the Center for Urban and Global Studies describing the activities made possible by the grant.

The Grossman Senior Research Prize for Global Studies: Application Deadline: April 14, 2017

The Grossman Fund also supports an annual prize competition for theses or senior research projects dealing with global issues. Eligible work includes theses or other projects based on original research undertaken for a Trinity course, or under the supervision of a Trinity faculty member in a student's senior year. Nominations of eligible work must be received from the supervising faculty member in early-mid April.

- First prize will carry a cash award of $400
- Second prize will carry a cash award of $100.
- Prizes and certificates will be awarded on Honors Day
- Committee: The review committee for both the Research Grant and Senior Research Prize is chaired by Isaac Kamola, Assistant Professor of Political Science, and includes Xiangming Chen, Paul E. Raether Distinguished Professor of Global Studies and Sociology; Garth Myers, Paul E. Raether Distinguished Professor of Urban International Studies; Emily Cummins, Postdoctoral Fellow in Urban Studies; Na Fu, Henry Luce Foundation Visiting Scholar.
