MULTICULTURAL RECRUITMENT

Trinity College
HARTFORD, CONNECTICUT

A SELECTION OF TRINITY'S CULTURAL HOUSES & CLUBS

1 UMOJA

Home of the Imani, the Men of Color Alliance, and Trinity College Black Women's Association; the Umoja House raises awareness of black arts, politics, history, and culture.

2 La Voz Latina (LVL)

LVL provides a community group for Latinx students on campus while simultaneously increasing awareness of Latino American politics and culture to Trinity's students. LVL also maintains a strong commitment to the Hispanic community in Hartford.

3 International House (iHouse)

The International House promotes and raises awareness of diversity through the celebration of different cultures among Trinity's student population.

4 Charleston House of Interfaith

Open to students of all religious traditions, walks of life, and those who are non-religious, the Charleston House of Interfaith provides a community environment in which panels, dinners, and presentations take place.

5 Entertainment Affairs Council (EAC)

As a branch of the Trinity College Student Government Association, EAC provides entertainment and activities for the entire campus community, through various events, including the annual Spring Weekend Concert.

6 Asian-American Student Association (AASA)

AASA promotes awareness and appreciation of the Asian/Asian-American identity. Throughout the year, AASA hosts educational and social programming events.

7 Zachs Hillel House

The Hillel House is a symbol of the vibrant Jewish life at Trinity. It is a welcoming and friendly place to all students, regardless of religious affiliation.

8 House of Peace

The House of Peace offers students exposure to Middle Eastern customs through traditions, lectures, workshops, festivals, and dances; while demonstrating the region's influence in today's society.

"Why I Chose Trinity"

Tyler
Gibbs

Bronx, NY

Class of 2019

High School: Riverdale
Country School

Majors: Economics &
Human Rights Studies

Trinity is only the second school I have ever been to, so I was looking for a space that was small enough where I would easily be able to create connections with faculty, administrators, and other students. In addition to the size and that it was not too far from home, I appreciated the opportunity to explore Human Rights as a major.

Montreal, Canada

Class of 2020

High School: Collegiate
Inst. for Math and Science

Majors: Engineering &
Concentration in Bio-med

The small class sizes allow for direct interaction with the professors, and Trinity has a very effective career center (Center for Student Success and Career Development) that allows for internships and academic programs to happen. The campus is welcoming, and it has incredible study abroad opportunities.

Dorchester, MA

Class of 2020

High School: Boston
Latin Academy

Majors: Political Science &
Human Rights

I chose Trinity because it was my number one school! Trinity is very well-rounded and a small school, which I prefer as it allows me to develop one on one relationships with my professors. The campus also has amazing aesthetics and awesome cultural clubs that students can join. Lastly, Trinity offers unique majors and several diverse study away options!

Grants Pass, OR

Class of 2021

High School: Grants
Pass High School
Major: Educational
Studies

I chose Trinity because of its close-knit community and environment, both in and out of the classroom. I loved that the classes were small, and that the professors are easily accessible to students. I also wanted to experience living in such close proximity to a large, culturally diverse city such as Hartford. I think Trinity's close relationship with the city is one of its biggest assets.

Brooklyn, NY

Class of 2021

High School: Poly Prep
Country Day School

Majors: American
Studies

As a liberal arts school, Trinity provides academic freedom. As a first year student with an undeclared major, Trinity gave me the opportunity to explore a wide range of disciplines. At Trinity, there are many opportunities to try new things and find out what matters most to you, which means a lot to me. The opportunity to interact with a diverse range of cultures and individuals has further helped me grow.

Muhammad

Corpus Christi, TX

Class of 2021

High School: Calallen
High School
Majors: Economics &
Political Science

My choice to attend Trinity College can be described in one word: Growth. Trinity has enabled me to interact closely with distinguished faculty members and has already offered opportunities that are often only accessible to upperclassmen at larger academic institutions. Trinity teaches students to transform theoretical knowledge into tangible change through its proximity to Hartford.
