A Message from the Chair of the Women's Leadership Council to our Members

As we move through the waves of this pandemic, I wanted to reach out to everyone on behalf of our network.

We are all facing anxiety for our own personal safety, as well as the health and safety of our loved ones and the general public. We are concerned about our own job security as well as the impact on the overall global economy. Many of us are asking, "What will the world be like when we emerge?" and "What will the new "normal" be?"

During these unusual and challenging times, we hope that the Trinity College Women's Leadership Council can help you feel supported and reassured that are not alone. Through our network, we will navigate the new normal together. To that end, we plan to offer a robust program of events across several virtual platforms, including virtual networking events, webinars, and intimate Zoom meetings.

The college is also providing additional opportunities for us to connect across the broader Trinity network as we move forward together.

On Wednesday, April 15 at 7:00 p.m., President Joanne Berger Sweeney will be hosting a virtual Town Hall for alumni. Registration details can be found on the Trinity College website. In addition, the college has launched the Virtual Long Walk website, which I encourage you to visit to stay connected during this time.

In the meantime, be safe, and be well.
