

16th November 2021

Dear Classmates,

The Class of 1967's 55th Reunion Leadership Team recently met with the 55th Reunion Leadership Team from the Class of 1966; both classes are working together to develop plans for jointly celebrating their 55th reunion during Reunion Weekend, June 9-12, 2022. Lots of programming ideas are being considered; we still would welcome your input as plans are being developed for a fun and informative 55th reunion. We will have the benefit of having the Class of 2020 on campus as they will be celebrating their pandemic postponed in-person graduation on June 11th. This means that we also will have an added opportunity to connect with faculty who are on campus to participate in the graduation ceremonies. We want to include our first Class of 1967 Scholar, Latanya Coke '19, and our current Class of 1967 Scholar, Dhiraj Ganji '23, in our reunion. In addition to reconnecting with classmates, our 55th reunion weekend will be a great time to hear about the College's plans for celebrating its Bicentennial in 2023. You also will want to be present at reunion to congratulate the classmate who receives the TRIN-MAN award; the award is intended to recognize and honor one of our classmates for "significant and meaningful service to one or more of the following: Trinity College and/or higher education in general; or the recipient's local community, state, or nation." The recipient also should have a history of meaningful monetary contributions to the College. You are encouraged again to submit your nomination for the TRIN-MAN award to Rob Boas at rboas@bellsouth.net before December 31, 2021. Finally, in this season of Thanksgiving and as we approach the end of another calendar year, I want to thank you for your ongoing generosity to our alma mater; as the College embarks on a comprehensive capital campaign, your 55th Reunion Leadership Team appreciates your gift(s) to annual giving, our Class of 1967 Scholarship Fund, and being a member of The Elms Society. On behalf of the 55th Reunion Leadership Team: Alan Weinstein, Jim O'Connor, Alex Levi, Jim Oliver, Rob Boas, Jeff Fox, and Bob Brickley, you have our best regards for a Happy Thanksgiving and good health for the remainder of 2021.
