

Trinity College Center for Caribbean Studies Grants Awarded 2016-2017

Research Grants:

Elizabeth Valenzuela, '17, "Challenging Dominance: The Case of Hindu Musicians, Women, and Youth in Trinidad."

Olivia DeJoie, '17, "A Comparative Study: Domestic Violence and Brain Injury in Trinidad and Hartford."

Seth Markle, Associate Professor of History & International Studies, "Hip Hop and Digital Story telling: Exploring the History of Caribbean Diaspora Youth in Hartford, 1975-1995."

Garth Meyers, Paul E. Raether Distinguished Professor of Urban International Studies, "The Useful and Ornamental Plants in British Colonialism."

Hubert Rosario, Assistant Professor of Cultural Studies and Languages, "Revisiting the Cuban Commission Report: Hartford's Role in the End of the Chinese Coolie trade in the Caribbean, 1873-1874."

Teaching Grants:

Joseph Chambers, Visiting Assistant Professor of Public Policy and Law, "Environmental Sustainability in the Caribbean: Trinidad and Tobago as a Case Study."