

The Patricia C. and Charles H. McGill III '63
Distinguished Lecture in International Studies

Broadcast live
via Vimeo:

Devoid of a Fundamental Understanding of Afghanistan

Craig Whitlock

Staff writer for The Washington Post

and author of The Afghanistan Papers: A Secret History of the War

Tuesday, April 5, 2022, 4:30 p.m.

McCook Auditorium

Public reception immediately following

"... we didn't know what we were doing," said Army Lt. Gen. Douglas Lute, the White House deputy national security adviser in charge of Afghanistan during the Bush and Obama administrations. "It's really much worse than you think."

The Patricia C. and Charles H. McGill III '63 International Studies Fund was established in 1996 with a gift from Patricia C. and Charles H. McGill III '63. The gift helped secure a matching grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. The income from the fund is to be used to support the appointment of visiting humanities scholars, primarily international scholars, in all of the concentrations that constitute international studies: African studies, Asian studies, Latin American studies, Middle Eastern studies, global studies, and Russian and Eurasian studies.

Trinity College
HARTFORD CONNECTICUT